Quest for quality education

NT Bureau

Chennai, Sept 3: iDiscoveri Education, a social enterprise with a vision to revamp the education system in India on Wednesday commenced 'XSEED Shiksha Yatra', an initiative to awaken interest in quality education for all children.

A specially designed bus will travel across all districts in Tamilnadu to demonstrate the power of modern child-centric teaching methods to children and teachers.

Flagging off the Shiksha Yatra, managing director, iDiscoveri Education, Ashish Rajpal said, 'the initiative is dedicated towards improving the quality of education in the State by the way of awakening the interest of schools and teachers. We also aim at introducing the modern child centric teaching methods like XSEED to schools that make learning engaging and effective. This Yatra is a derivative of our commitment to evolve the education scenario across India and facilitate every child in attaining quality basic education.'
