The screenshot shows a news article on the website newKerala.com. The article is titled "Globalising India needs 'schools of tomorrow': Harvard education professor" and is written by Arjun Oza. The main text discusses the need for educational reforms in India to meet the demands of the 21st century, citing Harvard education professor David Perkins. Perkins argues that traditional rote learning and didactic approaches are outdated and that education should focus on developing critical thinking and problem-solving skills. He mentions his book "Making Learning Whole" and his work on Project Zero at Harvard University. The article also touches upon the challenges of implementing such reforms in a large, diverse country like India.
